

Fishing Retreat

February 1-3, 2008

The reason most folks attend this weekend retreat is to pursue the wily oncorhynchus mykiss, that's steelhead to you and me, but that's not the only reason to come enjoy Drift Creek Camp's coastal setting for the weekend. This year we have put an emphasis on making the weekend inviting to families with childcare for the little ones and planned activities for older kids. There will be something for everyone! Curt Stutzman will teach optional rod-building and fly-tying classes. Folks can gather for table games or relax by the fire. On Sunday morning, time will be set aside for worship and reflection. This event is open to all members of the family, not just those who fish. So pack up your gear and come spend a relaxing weekend at Drift Creek Camp.

The retreat begins at 4:00 p.m. on Friday, February 1. Activities will conclude at noon on Sunday, February 3. Highlights include:

- Rod-building
- Fly-tying
- Children's activities
- Great food
- Fireside fellowship
- Table games
- Worship
- Raffle

Stephen Ogg (pictured with some of Drift Creek's finest) and his brother Timmy will be available for instruction and guiding if you are unfamiliar with steelhead fishing and/or the streams around Drift Creek Camp. There's never been a better time to learn how to fish at DCC!
