

The Drift Creek Camp Slug

"Parent & Me" Weekend June 22-24, 2007

Worship Time!

Everyone gathered, sang camp songs, watched skits and enjoyed stories together during this amazing weekend of camp. The first night introduced some new songs that will be sung during camp for years to come! The last night also featured the kids showing off their theatrical talents doing their own skit about the days of creation. We all had fun winding down the day while praising God and thanking God for all the goodness God has shared with us.

From the Pastor...

Wow! 30 kids and all those great parents make up a wonderful Parent & Me weekend. We have had great food, fun games and many campers showed up for the Polar Bear swim. Birdhouses and toolboxes were hammered together and candles used in worship were made. Our theme was "God, Creator and Friend". Parents and children explored the beautiful creation of Drift Creek and shared what they saw through sketching and clay. In all that we did, we tried to give God the glory and honor for all that he has given us.

"The Lord God put the man in the Garden of Eden. He put them there to work its ground and take care of it."—Genesis 2:15

Camp in God's Beautiful Creation

"I wish I could be here all the time, they cook the meals for you and baby-sit the kids" This was one phrase heard coming from a parent this weekend. But almost before it has begun, it is over, the shouting of thirty first and second graders slowly fades away, and is replaced with the shouting of all the kids at the week long camps that follow. The elements that make a camping experience at DCC so unique and significant are a beautiful, secluded wilderness setting, a captive group of youth, program content designed to reach youth with varied levels of faith in Christ, and a loving staff who are dedicated to serving others in the image of Christ. I hope that the experiences of this weekend are the start of a long career of coming to camp at Drift Creek, and the start of a lifelong love of God and his Creation. For all you second graders, "see ya at summer camp 2008 for a whole week, I hope you are as excited as I am." -Merv
